

YOUR CLUB

By: A Member

Every so often the Tri-State Radio Club goes through a period of great accomplishments which have brought our club great praise. Such accomplishments have invariably been a result of a group of officers who have been hard workers. When this combination comes to the fore the club has really gone places and we feel that these men are indispensable to the club and we wonder who we can get to carry on with this vigor. Actually there are many men in our organization who have the ability to make good officers, but they have not been given the opportunity to show their keen interest in the club or they are reluctant to take a forward step and put forth the effort necessary to do the job.

It does look like a big job to the fellow who has not been a worker in the club but actually it need not be such a terrific task. Reducing this task to a man sized job is actually the hard part since it requires the cooperation of all of the members to help with the little duties that come along each month so that the men honored with the titled offices do not have all of the work to do. Their job should be supervisory with a reasonable amount of active participation in the work.

We have an election again facing us with the old problem of looking around to see who we can find to unload all of the work on. This is a heck of a thing to face fellows. Actually we should be looking for a man qualified to be honored with these offices since electing him to office is the only way we have of showing a member that we appreciate the work that he has done or will do. I am sure that past officers of our club, despite the heavy work they have been faced with, have felt a genuine pleasure and honor in associating with the club in various activities. Lets all make these offices one of pleasure and honor by giving the cooperation needed to those who ask for the needed help.

Actually the work that is required of any club member is very small compared to your every day activities and all it really takes is a little gumption to do it. Committees should be active in their work and have regular meetings. Each committeeman should do his part by doing whatever duty is assigned to him. Lets make each committee click!!!! Committee meetings are in themselves a little hamfest, lets have fun working with other hams on these in between meetings.

Since the success of the club for the next year depends on YOU lets not have any more of this neglect or crawfishing out of your duties and assignments. We want a good club, remember the rest of the membership is looking to you for the leadership that you are qualified for or you wouldn't be asked. Don't let all the rest of us down. THE EYES OF THE MEMBERSHIP ARE ON YOU!

If you are asked to do a job, really do it, or right then and there tell us you won't do it, but don't let us down. If you can't take care of your assignment or feel that you can do a better job in some other capacity it is your obligation to the club to offer your services in that capacity in lieu of the assignment requested.

THERE IS NO EXCUSE FOR YOUR NOT WORKING FOR THE CLUB

LET'S GO!!! TAKE THE CLUB TOPS AGAIN
